L-W Board Gives Area Jr. College Students Lower Tuition Fees

Residents of Lincoln-Way High School District No. 210, who are attending Joliet Junior College will pay the same tuition fee charged students who reside within the Junior College boundaries -- $10.50 an hour.

Total per capita tuition cost, according to the figures given by the college, is $32 an hour. The state pays $9.50 an hour as its part of the cost. The Lincoln-Way High School board of education at an adjourned meeting last Saturday morning agreed to pay $12. This leaves the student or his parents with the remainder of the bill, or $10.50 an hour.

Last July, and again last Thursday night, parents of junior college students told the board they were willing to pay their third of the cost. The board gave them a still better deal by paying $12 an hour.

Peotone and Plainfield have made similar agreements.

Parents who have paid the first semester's tuition which was at the rate of $22.50 an hour will receive credit on the coming semester's tuition and in most instances they will have overpaid the bill and be entitled to a refund.

Supt. A. Hunter Chapman told a representative of this paper Monday afternoon that he had talked with officials of Joliet Junior College that morning and they expressed themselves as quite satisfied with the arrangement made by Lincoln-Way.

Students who have not paid their tuition bills are expected to do so immediately but at the new rate of $10.50 an hour.

They can learn thru Joliet Junior College officials if the coming semester fees are due immediately or if there be a grace period, following the agreement made by the Lincoln-Way board.

The tuition from Joliet was not received by Lincoln-Way until after Christmas and then it was because Supt. Chapman had it picked up by messenger. The entire bill was made out to the high school district and Lincoln-Way filed a suit for a declaratory judgment in the Will County Circuit Court to determine how much tuition it had to pay, if any. The lateness in filing the suit, it was explained, is that until it received the bill L-W was not injured and without grounds to sue on that issue.

Attorneys for Lincoln-Way will decide whether to let the suit stand or temporarily withdraw it. It would seem, it was said, that the question of how much Lincoln-Way could be expected to pay is now moot since the board's action Saturday.

The agreement made by Lincoln-Way is for the 1966-67 school year only, Supt. Chapman said. The money will be derived from the 3-cent tuition tax levied by the L-W board. Lincoln-Way has received its first money from this source, a sum of about $17,000. The levy made last year will not bring in any money until mid-summer or next fall, Chapman pointed out, but the board can borrow from one of its other funds to meet the second semester tuition bill in the spring and then replace it when the new tax money comes in.

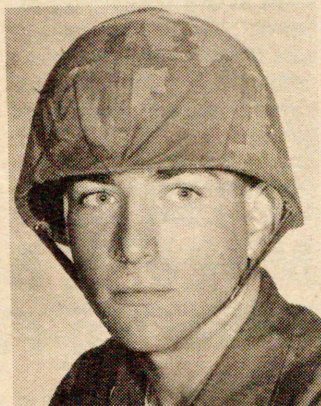

This way the board could meet this year's tuition bills without raiding its educational fund.

The new Junior College Act requires high school districts to spend the money they need for teachers and supplies to pay junior college tuition, a law that many consider would be found unconstitutional if brought into court.

If the proposed Class I Junior College which embraces Lincoln-Way district, Joliet, Lockport, Plainfield, and portions of Grundy and Kendall counties, is approved by the voters in the referendum Feb. 18, the tuition problems of the high school districts involved will be solved. None of them would have to pay after the close of the 1966-67 school year. The state would pay $11.50 an hour but what the final tuition fee would be cannot be decided until the new college is built and all the costs, including faculty wages, be determined, it was said. The students would have to pay tuition but that situation would be no different than it ever was. Students outside Joliet have always paid tuition there, it was pointed out.

Parents met with the Lincoln-Way board Thursday night and the final decision reached on the tuition problem last Saturday morning stemmed from that session.

MARINE PVT. DONALD E. WILSON JR., son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Wilson, Sr. 19540 S. Walnut St., Mokena, has completed four weeks of individual combat training at Marine Corps Base at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Mokena Schools Get $3000 Grant

A federal grant in the amount of $3,000 will be forthcoming for the Mokena grade school system.

Under the Public Law Act 874 a school is entitled to such a grant if parents of 3 per cent of the school's enrollment are employed in various government operated plants such as Argonne National Laboratory, Joliet Arsenal, U.S. Rubber Company, Internal Revenue Service, etc. or are serving with the Armed Forces. A survey was taken in Willowcrest and Carpenter street schools with a finding of 25 students whose parents are employed in government plants. Because the property on which the plant is located is not taxable, the school district, therefore, is eligible for the above mentioned funds.

At the recent board of education meeting bids were discussed for the purchase of a third school bus to be delivered in August. Low bidder and the one chosen by the board went to Cooper and Hostert garage who submitted a basic of $6,964.92. The bus will have a Ford chassis with a Wayne body. Village Candidates Can File On Jan. 23

Next Monday, Jan. 23, is the first day for filing nominating petitions for village offices. The last day for filing is Feb. 27.

In area towns no mayors are to be elected this spring but there are places to be filled on village boards. Election this year is April 18.

At Frankfort two veteran members of the village board have announced they will not seek re-election, John Topp and Clyde Reils. Reils has served 12 consecutive years and so has Topp but the latter also served as a trustee prior to his election in 1955. He dropped out of village office for a time because his employment with the New York Central caused a conflict with his village duties.

Robert Dean, chairman of the finance committee, will be a candidate again, he said.

Last day for withdrawal of candidates is March 4. That date is also the deadline for anyone to file any objections to petitions.

March 20 is the first day for casting absentee ballots and April 15 the last.

March 19 is the first day for publishing legal notices of the election and April 3 the final day.

L-W All Stars Play Satellites Tonight

At 8 o'clock tonight in the Lincoln - Way High School gym the New York Harlem Satellites, a basketball team noted for its ability and showmanship, will take on the Lincoln-Way All Stars, made up of area coaches and members of the L-W faculty.

Advance tickets have been on sale for the past week but it is expected there will be some available at the door tonight.

The Satellites, directed by Rockie Brown, a former member of the famed Harlem Globetrotters, combine comedy with expert basketball skill.

A highlight of the program is the half-time show, the "Magic Circle," performed by five members of the squad in complete darkness with only the hands, feet and glowing ball visible.

And here is a bit of friendly advice offered by those who have checked the past performances of the Satellites -- don't bet on the Lincoln-Way All Stars. Last year the Satellites won 150 games and lost none. Their total wins come to 1,045 and their losses total nine.

MR. AND MRS. RONALD SMITH

Carol Foutz-Ronald Smith Wed At Chicago

The Bethany Evangelical Lutheran Church in Chicago was the setting for the recent candlelight wedding of Miss Carol Foutz of New Lenox and Ronald Smith of Chicago.

The Rev. Ralph Pomeroy officiated at the double-ring ceremony uniting the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Foutz and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Smith.

Mrs. Frank Kratky sang "The Lord's Prayer", "Because" and "O Perfect Love", accompanied by a Mr. Weiss.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of peau de sole with scalloped alencon lace creating a panel effect down the front of the gown. It featured a softly scooped neckline with long tapered sleeves, and a crescent empire bodice that continued into a redingote A line skirt.

Her imported silk illusion veiling was caught up in a small cluster of lace and crystal trimmed leaves. She carried a sunburst bouquet of white roses, stephanotis, and lily of the valley centered with a white orchid.

Attending Miss Foutz as maid of honor was Miss Bonnie Fette. She wore a floor length empire styled sheath featuring a maze crepe skirt with a deep gold brocade bodice. A long brocade coat matching the brocade on the dress was worn over the gown. She carried a single flower composed of many pale yellow gladioli on a long stem. A Kabuki was worn in her hair.

Attired identically were bridesmaids Miss Sharon Winkler, Miss Sherri Bray, and Mrs. Gordon Davis. Each girl carried large bronze mums surrounded with green leaves. Each attendant wore a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bride.

Terry Smith served his brother as best man, while attendants were Mr. Dennis Smith, brother of the groom, Ken Foutz, brother of the bride and Jim Wilson. Ushers were Richard and Johnnie Rae Brisbois, both nephews of the groom.

For her daughters wedding, Mrs. Foutz chose a two piece silver brocade dress with silver accessories. Mrs. Smith wore a pale blue lace sheath dress and coat with matching accessories. Both wore white cymbium orchids.

After an undisclosed honeymoon, the couple now reside at 437 Lombard Ave. in Oak Park.

Mokena 6th Graders Take Up First Aid

Grade 6 of Willowcrest School is taking a 12-weeks course in First-Aid and Safety. The class has been studying poisons, artificial respiration, and shock, and what first-aid treatments should be given for each.

Dan Kurber, the proprietor, discussed the use of antidotes and emetics, and gave each class member an emetic sample, to be used should a member of one of their families take some poison by accident. He told the class some of the requirements that are necessary to operate an up-to-date pharmacy regarding education, license, laws and the responsibility the pharmacist has to his customers.

Chandler Ties East With Pin

Frank Chandler, heavy-weight wrestler for Lincoln-Way, won the final match in a meet with Joliet East to stave off defeat and give the Knights 24-24 tie.

Chandler won by pinning Glenn Frynn, of East, in 5 minutes, 4 seconds.

Until that point East was leading 24 to 19. Chandler had to pin his man to get the five points necessary to tie up the meet and that was just what he was able to do.

In the first match, 95 pounds, East's Ben Blakney, rallied in the final 9 seconds to pin "Pieapple" Adams. At 103, Ed Delaney, L-W, came right back to pin Jerry Crudup in 3:19.

East seesawed back with Ferro's 6-0 win over Mike Mitchell at 112. Then L-W's Dave Pollach handed Jim Laker a 6-1 lacing to knot the team scores at 8-8.

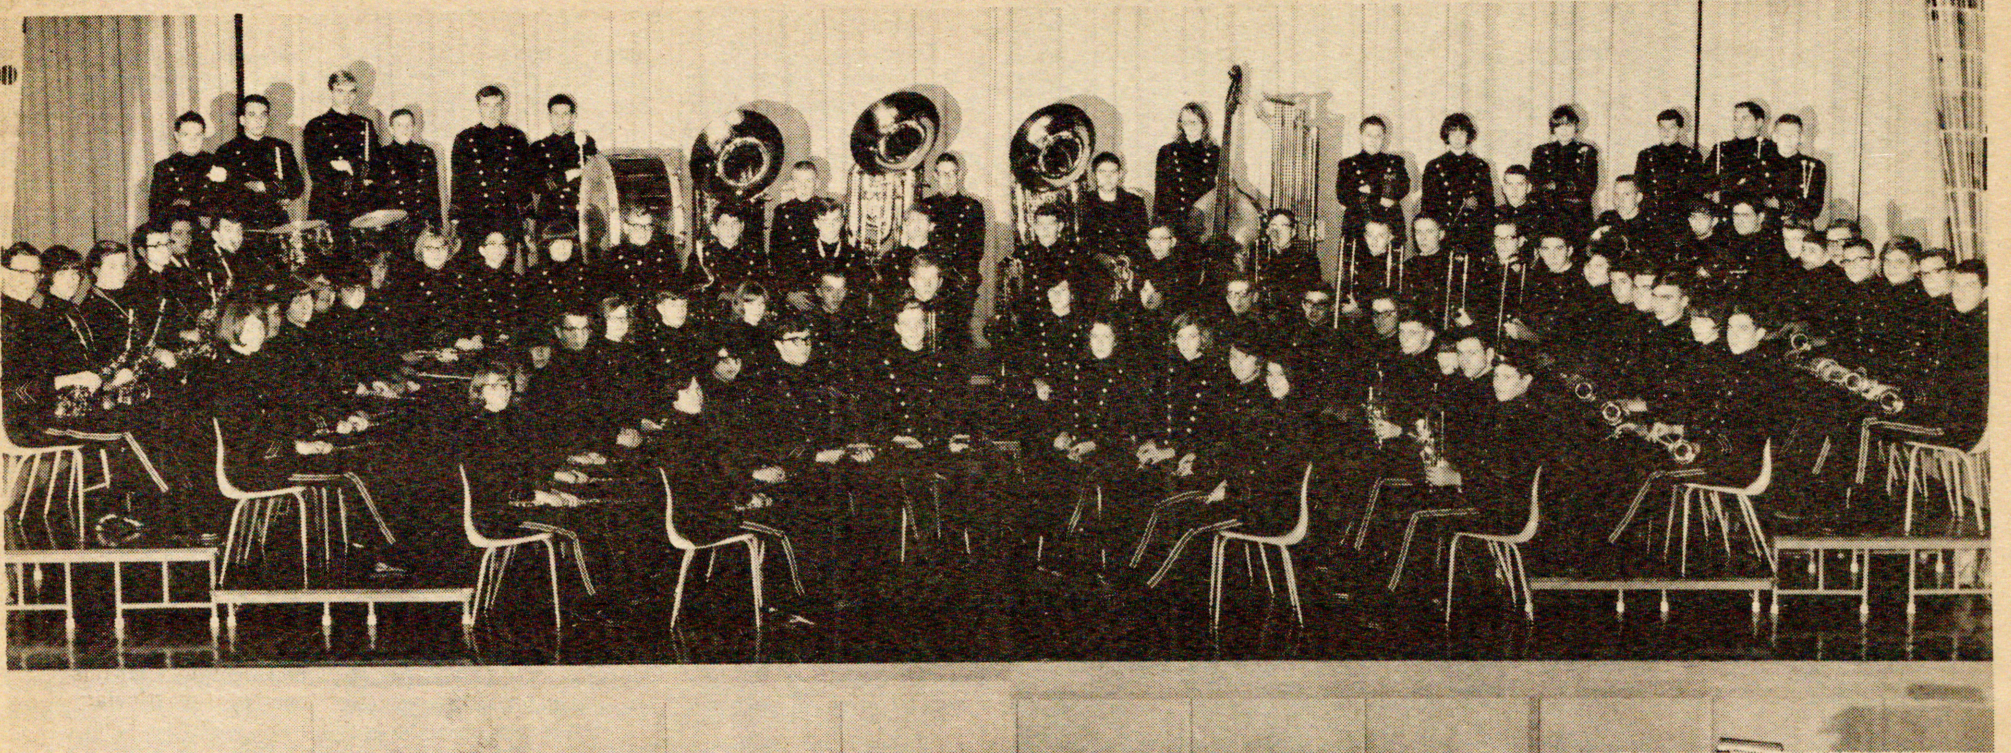

Dan Youngen polished off Gene Holland, 6-0 in the 133 pound class. Carleton Bates enabled L-W to go ahead thru pinning Dwight Emmett in 3 minutes, 42 seconds.

Bob Sorensen took a decision over Milt Jenkins at 138. Ralph Jenkins then dropped Jim Konicey to make the score 16-14 East. Larry Shutack, 165 class, lost to Len Crudup. Dave Sharp set the scene for the final match with a victory over Don Ball.

Fluoride Question Is Still Undecided

There have been complaints about the proposed addition of fluoride to the Frankfort village water supply, according to Mayor Glenn Warning and Village Clerk Walter Pfaff.

The village has the equipment with which to add the chemical to the water supply and it has the permission of the state water board to go ahead with the project but the village board has been marking time.

Tests taken by Engineer Robert Hamilton, it was reported, indicate there is a sufficient natural supply of fluoride in the village water supply. These tests are different that some taken several years ago thru arrangement by Dr. Joseph Petnuch, dentist, who has been urging Frankfort to fluoridate its water.

Trustees James Mc-Lemore and Gerald Francis were appointed to talk with Dr. Petnuch about the situation and to invite him to the regular meeting of the village board Feb. 20, where it could be discussed by the board. It was expected a decision would be reached at that time.

Pfaff said some persons opposed to introducing fluoride in the water wanted the board to call a referendum on the question. Board members, however, don't think so much of the idea. They reason they were elected to make decisions and if every-time a decision had to be made on action or policy it should be submitted to a vote of the people there was no point in having a village board.

Auto Crash Injures 2, Blacks Out Area

Two Arbury Hills girls, juniors at Lincoln - Way High School, were injured and between 100 and 150 homes and business places were without electric power for 30 minutes as a result of an automobile crash last Thursday evening.

The car involved, driven east by Sharon Schubert, 16, of 9446 Magnolia St., skidded on a large section of ice on 191st St., just east of Wolf Rd., spun across the road and struck a power pole, on the north side of the street, shearing it off near the base. Pole and wires were brought down on the top of the car.

The girl who was a passenger, Patricia Roach, 16, of 9458 Magnolia, was thrown out of the car by the impact. She suffered a severe bump on the head, cuts and bruises.

The Schubert girl had a cut on the forehead and was bruised and shaken up. She was trapped in the car and Mokena firemen had to extricate her from the wreckage, using the chain saw the auxiliary had given the department for the first time, to cut up the pole so it could be handled. Miss Schubert had the presence of mind to warn someone approaching the car that live wires were resting on it. The girls were taken to Silver Cross hospital, treated and later released. They had been to a store on an errand and were on their way to Arbury Hills when the accident happened.

Most of the power interruptions occurred in homes but there were business establishments on Front St., west of Mokena that were without lights. The effect extended as far as Marley. Commonwealth Edison crews reported the power went off at 5:46 p.m. and they had service restored in the area effected at 6:15.

Vandals Destroy Bus Shelter

JAMES PEYTON

Telephone: 532-1516

Once again it becomes my duty as a reporter to report the recurrence of the work of a demented mind. We all worked hard in this small community to create a better place to live and we have been so proud of the fact that all of the work that was done was still in tact after all this time, however at this writing we are all sick over the vandalism that has all of a sudden started to run rampant in our community. Last week a board was literally kicked out of our bus shelter and Sunday evening our entrance sign was almost totally destroyed. We do not know who did this, however when we find out (and we will) they will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law. We all wish to welcome reported personally that they have received the paper and enjoy it.

-O-

I would like to report that Mrs. Conrad Hubbard, mother of Mr. James Hubbard of Lenore Lane is doing well after her surgery at St. Josephs Hospital, Joliet. She is up and around already and may be allowed to come home Wednesday.

There is only two more weeks of warmups for the girls bowling before the Tournament starts so all of you girls better get out and take advantage of this time to practice. Also there will be a banquet after the tournament is over.

Once again anyone who has news please advise me so I can put it in the paper.

Methodist Church Scene Of Reils-Havert Vows

The Frankfort Methodist Church was the setting for the Sept. 24 marriage of Miss Diane Reils and Everett Havert Jr.

The Rev. Eugene Kepler officiated at the 7 p.m. ceremony uniting the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Reils, 228 Walnut St., Frankfort, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Havert St. of Rural Elwood, Ill.

Miss Roger Corp of New Lenox was the organist.

Escorted by her father to an altar decorated with white glads and pink asters, the bride was dressed in a Fuschia colored three piece knit suit and white gloves. Her jewelry consisted of a pearl necklace and matching earrings. She carried a mum cascade bouquet with white streamers.

Maid of Honor, Miss Karen Reils, wore a gray knit suit and carried a nosegay bouquet of pink glad petals.

Thomas Havert, brother of the groom, served as best man, while Dale Reils, brother of the bride, served as usher.

The brides mother wore a cranberry dress with bleach accessories.

The grooms mother wore a cranberry wool suit with bleach accessories.

A reception was held following the ceremony at Bruns Restaurant in New Lenox for guests from Mokena, New Lenox, Manhattan, Elwood, Marcellus, Peotone and Frankfort.

The bride was formerly employed at Mobil Foam Co., Frankfort, and is now attending Joliet Junior College.

The groom is a graduate of Joliet High School and Joliet Junior College and is now employed as an accountant.

Rectors of England, Palos Will Exchange Parishes Next Summer

The Rev. Canon Herbert O. Punched of Hertfordshire, England, will come as visiting Rector to the Church of the Transfiguration, Palos Park, for four months in 1967. During the same four months the Rev. Robert E. Fosse, Rector of the church in Palos Park, will assume similar duties in Canon Punched's Anglican parish in England.

Most accurately described as an exchange of "parishes, rectories, salaries and modes of transportation,"

Highway Money For Roads

As part of its legislative recommendations for 1967, the Chicago Motor Club is urging a constitutional amendment in Illinois to prohibit future diversion of motorists' tax money.

Gerald W. Cavanagh, president of the Chicago Motor Club, said that preventing future use of motorists' taxes for non-highway purposes will require action by Illinois voters at a general election, after the state legislature determines to submit the question to the people. Before such an amendment can be submitted to Illinois voters for adoption, it will be necessary for both houses of the Illinois legislature to approve the proposal.

the arrangements were made by the two clergymen with the support and encouragement of their respective bishops and vestries. Under MRI (Mutual Responsibility and Interdependence) a number of American dioceses have agreed to join in a companion relationship with dioceses in other provinces of the Angelical Communion thru the world. Such a relationship has existed for the past three years between the Diocese of Chicago and the diocese of Zululand-Swaziland. Next year the companion diocese will be that of Southwark, England.

In every way, Canon Punched will become the priest and pastor of the Church of the Transfiguration. He will be in residence for the months of May, June, July and August, 1967. During that same period, Father Fosse will assume full pastoral responsibilities at Litlington Parish which is 15 miles south of Cambridge and 45 miles north of London. The parish itself comprises three medieval churches and one mission hall in four country villages neighboring Royston, Hertfordshire.

Doty-Ashum Vows Are Read Dec. 22

The Church of the Nazarene in Orland Park was the setting for the Dec. 22 marriage of Miss Ronna Doty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Doty, and Michael Conway Ashum, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Ashum, also of Orland Park.

The Rev. Paul Berger officiated at the candlelight, double ring ceremony. This was the first full wedding ceremony in the Nazarene Church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street length white brocade dress with matching coat and white Ermine hat with tiny veil. She carried a nose gay of white mums with pink rosebuds.

Miss Beverly Fetcho was maid of honor and Kenneth McGraw served as best man.

Mrs. Doty and Mrs. Ashum each wore Christmas Cor-sages.

Charles Doty lit the candles at the altar, two small white ones and a large one in center of lillies of the valley and ribbons.

Following a reception at the bride's parents' home, the newlyweds spent their honeymoon at the Wagon Wheel at Rockton, Ill.

They are now residing in Lemont.

Guest Speaker Delights Members Of Woman's Club

MRS. VIRGINIA SASS
Telephone: 485-6424
Mrs. Leo Murskyj of New Lenox, delighted members of the Marley Woman's Club on Jan. 12, with authentic information on "Ukrainian Customs". The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. William Schwab with Mrs. Loren Sass as co-hostess.

Mrs. Murskyj related fond remembrances of her native community of Galizia, Ukraine. Of particular interest was her account of their Christmas Eve on Jan. 6, under the Julian calendar. A dinner of twelve foods, prepared without meats or animal fats, is served. The entrees are mainly soups, fish and fruits. One plate is set for deceased members of the family and one placed for those without families. Hay is put under the table in observance of Jesus's birth in the stable. Even though no presents are given, Christmas is very significant.

The Ukraine is a rich agricultural country, noted for its wheat. The wheat symbol is often used on pottery and other art objects. Mrs. Murskyj showed beautiful pottery and hand carved wooden articles with mother of pearl inlays, plates, plaques and candelabra. She displayed hand-made and designed Christmas ornaments and Easter eggs. Attractive garments and pillow cases with hand embroidered trims, made by Mrs. Murskyj, were admired by everyone. Oranges and greens are predominate colors.

She also demonstrated the making of "Kutia", a cooked porridge of wheat, honey and poppy seed. This is served three times a year--on Christmas Eve, New Years and on Jordan Day. It is passed and everyone takes a spoon-full and in turn extends wishes of happiness, health and prosperity to all. Also on display were other foods, native to the Ukraine, dried mushrooms and braided breads.

Dr. and Mrs. Murskyj came to the United States in 1949, following World War II. They were married in Germany while attending universities there. Dr. Murskyj received his training to be a doctor in Germany. He serves as a general practice physician with his office at 304 W. Maple in New Lenox. The Murskyjs have three children, Christine, age 16, is a student at Providence High School. Mark, age 14, and Leo Jr., age 8, attend St. Jude's Grade School.

Dessert - coffee preceded ed the meeting. The serving table was covered with a Swedish linen cloth and appointed with a Swedish candelabra arrangement. The president, Mrs. Roy Berndt, announced that the next meeting will be an all day sewing session for the Silver Cross Hospital. It will be held at the Silver Cross Nurses Home on Feb. 9. Members are each to bring a handkerchief for a Valentine exchange. Secret pals may also be remembered in honor of Valentine's Day. Guests of the club were Mrs. Kenneth Nutter, Mrs. Charles Sievert, Mrs. Curtis Buck, Mrs. Herb Crabb and Mrs. John Burger. Mrs. Burger was welcomed as a new member.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Lauffer attended a convention this week of the Illinois State Health Improvement Association which was held at the Holiday Inn, East at Springfield.

Mr. James D. Frazer has received word of the birth of a new great-granddaughter, born to Mr. and Mrs. William Mitchell on Jan. 8, at Morris, Ill. She has been named Michelle Renee. Mrs. Mitchell is the former Miss Mary Lou Smith.

Mrs. Herb Crabb was a guest at a Pinnacle party at the home of Mrs. Pete Witta in Hinsdale on Jan. 13.

Mrs. Charles Elliott was a guest at a dinner on Jan. 14, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Elliott, Jr. in New Lenox in honor of the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Charles Rysdon of Park Forest.

Dinner guests on Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harwood Stellwagen and family were Rev. and Mrs. John Burger and daughter Lisa and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Maue and son David.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Short are the parents of a son born on Jan. 8, in St. Joseph's Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Carney are the parents of a boy born on Jan. 9, in the Silver Cross Hospital.

Knights Win 2 More Cage Tilts In SWS

The Knights of Lincoln-Way vanquished two more Southwest Suburban Conference basketball foes last week-end.

On Friday night Lincoln-Way dusted off the Mustangs of Evergreen Park, 73 to 55 and Saturday night defeated the Bremen Braves, 56 to 42 in a tilt on the Knights court.

The clash with Evergreen Park took place there. The Knights had a 36 to 21 edge at halftime. The Mustangs under the direction of Dick Dystrup, a new hand in conference coaching ranks, have lost a number of games but they have also won some and look better every start.

In the second half Lincoln-Way outscored them 19 to 18 points in the third frame and 18 to 16 in the final period. Lincoln-Way had .480 average on field goals and .680 in free throws. The Mustangs had a percentage of .340 for field goals and 500 from the free throw line.

Dave Eden had a good night for L-W, scoring 27 points. Pat McCabe was next with 17 and Stanfill racked up 10. Strange to Seitzinger failed to put away a point. Ihde had 6, Mike McCabe, 5, Fredin, 4, and Warning and Randolph 2 each.

Against the Braves, however, Seitzinger scored 15 points and Pat McCabe was high with 17; Ihde had 9, Eden, 7, Stanfill, 6 and Warning 2. Shooting from the floor Lincoln-Way hit a percentage of .534 compared to .439 for Bremen. The Knights free throwing was off. They hit .500 while Bremen's percentage in that department was .632. The Knights led 23 to 11 at the half and 39 to 19 at the end of the third quarter. The Braves outscored them 23 to 17 in the final period.

Gas People Now Keeping Autos Warm

Many Illinois motorists are solving the wintertime problem of hard-starting cars by installing natural gas room heaters in their garages.

H. G. Carr, Northern Illinois Gas Company general sales manager, said the versatile heaters are also being widely used in basements, closed-in porches, breezeways and add-on rooms.

The heaters, which can easily be installed on any outside wall, and which require no chimney, are available in numerous sizes with BTU outputs ranging from 10,000 to 85,000.

Thru the end of March, NI-Gas is offering a $10 installation allowance on any gas room heater purchased from the utility. The popular heaters are also available from many dealers throughout NI-Gas territory.

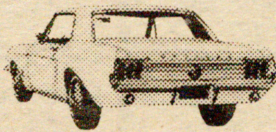

Homeowners wishing information about the heaters are invited to call their nearest NI-Gas office.

If ever a small tree was adapted to Chicago area gardens it's the hawthorn. The largest one in the world is located in the Forest Preserve at a camp ground picnic grove along the Des Plaines River. This giant Downy Hawthorn is 27 feet high, 49 feet wide and has a trunk circumference of seven feet and seven inches!

This championship size points out two things: the hawthorn likes this area, and because of the shortness of this champion, hawthorns are small trees suited for landscaping. Of 800-900 known American varieties of hawthorns 23 are native to the area. Two of these natives and two additional introductions from Europe are particularly good landscape subjects.

The scientific name, crataegus, means strength in reference to the hardness of its wood. However, craggy also gives some insight into the nature of the plant. The dense irregular branching gives an impression of a pile of sticks on a stem. However, this craggy plant is not to be taken lightly. It has one to three inch spines that can capture the attention of an ungloved hand.

But there is beauty too. The dark green leathery leaves can be considered handsome. And the flowers in May or early June make it dominant in the landscape at that time. The red or yellow fruits that follow the flowers are in some varieties suitable for eating. Although watch those thorns when picking. To round out the season the fall foliage turns orange red.

Because the branching is so dense the plant is both a visual and physical barrier even in winter. This makes it an excellent plant for hedges of tall living screens. Untrained, the plants assume a horizontal or cloud shape that compliments the low design of modern ranch or tri-level homes.

The most interesting hawthorn varieties include the smaller English hawthorn. So named because it is native to Europe and North Africa. We certainly can be thankful for its introduction to North America because it has several special features. For variety the fruit is yellow rather than red and the flowers are double and red.

Most of the hawthorns are broader than tall but the Washington hawthorn at least starts out with a slim straight figure, as it ages and reaches about eighteen feet it begins to round out as people do in middle age. But because of this youthful columnar habit, rows of them are especially suited for use as a tall screen.

Two native hawthorns, the cockspur and the downy hawthorn are other excellent small trees for our yards and garden. Nursery grown trees will transplant readily in the home landscape. In fact they have proved their adaptability to this area by producing the worlds champion sized downy hawthorn which is also the champion sized hawthorn of any variety.

Once in captivity hawthorns are readily trained and controlled. Expect them to be one of the champion assets in any garden. Ask the birds that nest in them.

Plan Disaster Courses

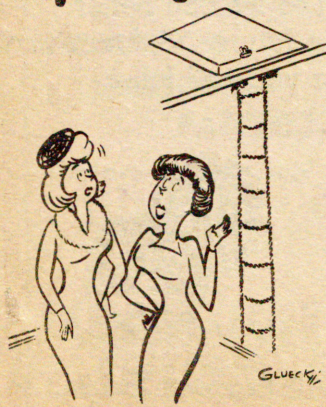

Two Red Cross Disaster training classes have been scheduled in the South Cook County Area to train the residents of this area as Disaster Volunteers. Levi Hunt, acting chairman of the South Cook Red Cross Disaster Service, explained that two separate classes have been set up to give everyone who may wish this important training the opportunity to receive it.

Hunt also stressed the need for daytime volunteers in disaster work.

"These volunteers can be housewives, retirees or people who work in the evenings," he said. "We particularly need volunteers in Alsip, Burnham, Crestwood, East Crest, Hickory Hills, Homewood, Lemont, Matteson, Oak Forest, Orland Park, Palos Heights and Palos Hills."

Both classes will be given at the South Cook County Red Cross Office, 157 East 155th Street in Harvey on Monday, January 23. The afternoon class will start at 1 p.m. and the evening class will start at 7 p.m. Prospective volunteers may attend either class to receive full training. For further information call ED 1-1075.

Hints On How To Cope With "Beautiful Snow"

There is nothing more delightful than a beautiful snow -- unless you happen to be stuck in it.

But there are more problems to winter driving than snow, the Chicago Motor Club-AAA reminds motorists.

There is the danger of skidding, the problem of clear vision, a well-tuned automobile and a knowledgeable driver.

Good winter driving starts before you get behind the wheel. Here are some things to consider:

-- Cars with automatic chokes have to be "set" by depressing the gas pedal all the way down once and releasing it half way before cranking the starter. Don't pump the accelerator. This simple oversight can cause a serious service problem.

-- Frozen locks on doors and trunks usually can be freed by inserting a heated key. Use a match or lighter to heat the key. Also take the precaution of drying weather stripping around doors and trunk frame after a car wash or a thaw in snow allowed to pile up on the car.

-- Don't overload your trunk. Sure, carry salt, abrasive gravel or old skid chains, a shovel and maybe a few blankets. But remember, too much weight on the rear wheels will not improve traction. Instead, it could make steering difficult.

-- If your car has an air conditioner, turn it on every week for at least five minutes. This permits lubrication and prevents vital parts from drying out.

Other items to check before you get onto the road are brakes, shock absorbers, clutches, exhaust systems and fuel pumps.

Brakes that pull or clutches, that grab can send a car careening out of control at the slightest provocation on a slippery surface. Bad shock absorbers, too, can give way to uncontrollable motion.

Should you get into a skid, keep calm. Don't slam on the brakes. Steer in the direction in which the rear of the car is moving. Gently decelerate when you are going in the proper direction and be careful not to oversteer. Remember to keep the car in gear and the clutch engaged. Your engine sometimes can be your best brake.

If traction is poor when you wish to start, use the lowest gear possible. This helps prevent spinning wheels. Accelerate carefully, just enough to keep the engine from stalling.

When stuck in snow, the Chicago Motor Club -- AAA recommends:

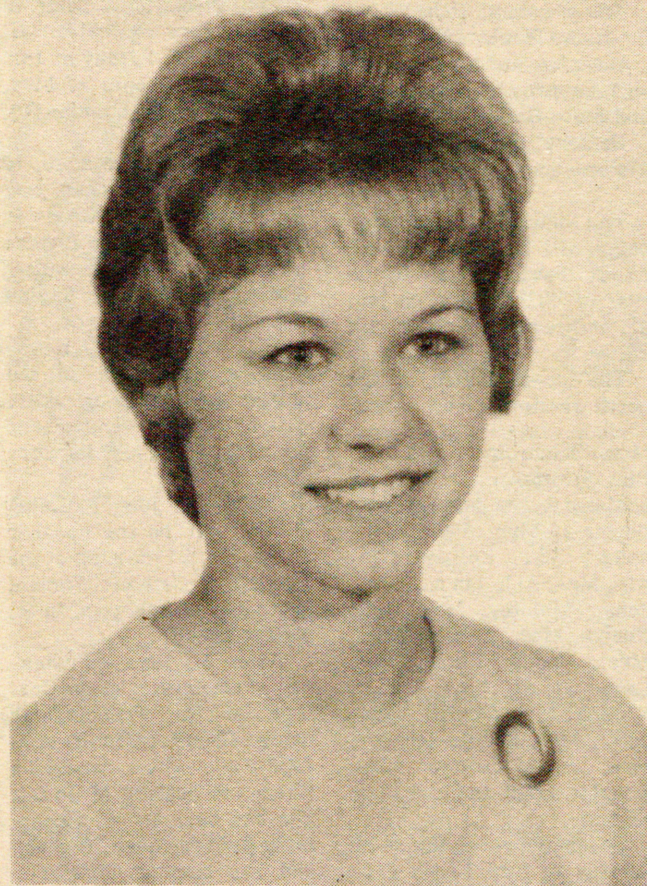

-- Try backing out first. Don't try pulling out of a slippery place with your wheels turned too sharply. Set them straight or turn them only slightly.

-- If still stuck, perhaps shoveling can make the difference. If this fails, throw sand, cinders or your old rusty skid chains under the wheel or wheels that spin.

-- It also might be possible to rock the car free. That is, start forward slowly in low gear, then shift to reverse until the rear wheels start slipping. Shift to low gear again and repeat the shifting, setting up a rocking motion.

-- A good thing to remember when parking in snow is to pull back and forth a few times in the parking place to clear a path in the snow.

Offer 4 New Courses At Elmhurst College

Four new courses will be offered during the spring semester in the Elmhurst College evening session.

The new offerings will be Comparative Chordate Anatomy, The Exceptional Child, Special Methods -- Natural Science and Film as Art Form.

The Comparative Chordate Anatomy Course is designed for the serious student who desires to progress in advanced biological study. It is a prerequisite for work in animal histology, embryology and physiology at the college. Eligibility is limited to students who have completed one semester of college work in animal biology, zoology or the equivalent. Four semester hours are offered.

The Exceptional Child: A Survey will include a study of the exceptional child and of mentally, socially, and physically handicapped children. The course is designed for teachers in the area who are interested in learning more about work with various types of exceptional children. The course offers three hours of credit.

Special Methods -- Natural Science is designed to meet specific needs in teaching science to elementary and junior high teachers. The course will involve a discussion of subject matter and its relation to the demonstrations that comprise the laboratory experience. The course carries two semester hours credit.

The Film as Fine Art is a critical study of motion pictures as a distinctive medium of communication and expression. Three credit hours are offered.

3 NCC Courses Have Adult Group Slant

Among the offerings of the spring semester of the Evening School at North Central College are three which will have definite appeal to adult groups.

All three will be offered for no credit and will supplement the undergraduate credit courses being offered in 11 departments and the graduate level course being offered in the field of education.

Registration for Evening School will be held Thursday, Jan. 26, from 7-9:30 p.m. in the College Union on the campus. Catalogs and additional information is available at the Office of Admissions.

Heading the list of adult offerings is a course in the stock market which will be a five session course beginning on April 6. Special subjects, such as mutual funds and stock market charting, will be reviewed in the course. Virgil E. Otto, of the Francis I. DuPont Company, will be the instructor.

Another of the special courses is a Creative Drama study which will explore the possibilities for the use of creative dramatics by teachers or persons otherwise involved with youth groups. The course will be so managed that the participants will gain an overview of the development of creative dramatics, the values involved and an operational technique sufficient for their own beginning use of this medium with children. Herb Nadelhoffer, a graduate student in the area of dramatics, will be the instructor.

The third course available on this level will be "Twentieth Century Art and Related Problems" taught by Maurice Heaton, chairman of the art department at Naperville Community High School. This course will be offered for the purpose of informing the community about art of the present century and the reasons underneath the visual presentations produced. A laboratory session will accompany the history portion of the class.

The undergraduate courses will be offered in the departments of economics and business; education; English; history; modern foreign languages (French, German, Spanish); physics; political science; music; psychology; religion and speech.

A graduate course, Education 585-Teaching Language Arts in Elementary School, taught by faculty from Northern Illinois University, will also be offered.

The spring semester will run from Jan. 30 to May 24 with appropriate time free during the Easter season. Most classes meet once each week beginning at 7:15 p.m. on either Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday.

North Park Offers Liberal Arts Course

North Park College is a four-year liberal arts college on the northwest side of Chicago at the corner of Foster (5200 North) and Kedzie (3200 West) Avenues. It was founded in 1891 by the Evangelical Covenant Church of America, a denomination of 560 churches in the United States and Canada.

Admission is open to all students on the basis of scholarship, character, health, and North Park's ability to meet the student's needs. The present student body represents a wide variety of geographical religious, and social backgrounds and includes students from 35 states and seven foreign countries.

Accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, North Park College has a faculty of 100. The academic calendar is the three-three pattern pioneered by Dartmouth College and dividing the school year into three terms of eleven weeks each. Between-term vacations come at Christmas and in late March. In each of the three terms the student takes three courses -- making nine for the academic year and 36 for the full four-year program (plus six terms of physical education).

The Bachelor of Arts degree is offered with majors in the following subject areas:

Art, Music, English, French, Biology, Chemistry, Mathematics, Natural Science, Physics, Economics, History, Philosophy, Political Science, Psychology, and Social Science.

Dr. Karl A. Olsson has been president of North Park since 1959.

St. Procopius: The History of Quality Education

On a raw March day in 1887 Father Procopius Neuzil, O.S.B., walked into a two-room house in Chicago to begin teaching two students. On that day he established St. Procopius College's most important and lasting tradition: quality.

To the Benedictine Monks who conduct St. Procopius College, quality of education has always been of more importance than number of students. Therefore, St. Procopius has grown slowly and carefully.

A few months after that modest beginning in Chicago, the college was incorporated. Three years later it was granted a State charter authorizing the granting of all degrees. In 1901, having outgrown its quarters in the city and desiring a more quiet setting for both the monastery and the college, St. Procopius moved to its present location in Lisle, 25 miles west of Chicago.

Today there are 886 students and a faculty of 85. The curriculum has been expanded from a few courses to a broad spectrum of majors and courses in the arts and sciences. The reputation of the college -- especially in the sciences -- has steadily grown in stature.

St. Procopius has achieved its reputation by moving forward at a steady pace, by following a somewhat narrow path to excellence. Its guidelines have been simple: quality teachers, quality students, functional facilities, dedication to teaching, and a desire to produce a student who is well educated as well as aware of his responsibilities to God, to society and to himself.

Teachers are a key to quality education. The most brilliant scholar, the most dedicated researcher, the most learned specialist does not belong at St. Procopius College unless he is first an excellent teacher. These other admirable qualities are, of course, always sought in the college's faculty, but ability to teach is the most important criterion. The St. Procopius faculty is a diverse group. Although the college is conducted by Benedictine Monks of St. Procopius Abbey, the faculty also includes other priests, sisters, lay men and women. The major unifying factor is a common devotion to teaching and to the ideals and educational philosophy of St. Procopius. This very diversity, however, helps to provide an atmosphere on campus which is stimulating to students and faculty colleagues alike.

It is one thing to report the factual developments of a school; it is quite another thing to capture the focus and influences coming to bear on education both from within and from without the institution. The academic year 1965-66 showed an increase in enrollment, a continued development and increase in faculty, a concerted effort at planning, both in the physical and academic spheres, and some interesting beginnings at cooperative efforts with other colleges.

The planning and cooperation among the various science disciplines and the staff helped to bring about a $500,000 federal grant for a new science learning center. The concrete result of such planning should be physically evident with the actual construction of the $1,500,000 project this year.

In an effort to contribute to the cultural offerings of the area, the St. Procopius College Productions over the past 18 years has presented 52 plays, concerts and musical comedies. These programs have featured not only student performers but also scores of adults and young people from surrounding communities.

Millikin Enters Thorough Campus Expansion Program

Millikin University is currently engaged in a long-range program for campus expansion, with some construction already in progress.

The comprehensive campus development plan calls for at least $12.5 million in new construction and a larger campus to accommodate an estimated 1,700 students after 1970.

Already under construction is a men's dormitory, which will be occupied next fall, and a power plant, designed to take care of present and future additions to the campus.

A capital funds campaign to raise $3 million exceeded $2.8 million in the first six months, and University officials expect to be able to announce plans for groundbreaking later this year for two major campus buildings.

These are a Fine Arts Auditorium/Art Center and a Physical Education Center. With successful completion of this capital funds drive, the buildings will be in use during the 1968-69 academic year.

Millikin welcomes visitors at any time, although an appointment is helpful in allotting sufficient time for a complete visit and tour. Prospective students and their parents are advised to write to the Admission Office, Millikin University, Decatur, Illinois

Dr. Paul L. McKay, Millikin University President, stands before men's dormitory, presently under construction. The new dorm will be ready for use in the fall. It will accommodate 132 men.

College Offers Home Study

A unique and fantastically successful way of learning shorthand (or brushing up when this skill is rusty) is the home-study plan offered by Chicago Professional College at 7 W. Madison Street. The course is a combination of electronic equipment and the telephone.

A tape recorder and pre-recorded tapes are supplied to the student. Any questions the student may have are quickly answered by phone. The mid-term and the finals are also given over the phone.

Shorthand lends itself particularly well to this learning approach as it is most successfully learned and reviewed by dictation which does not require a live instructor.

A unique way of learning shorthand at home is offered by the Chicago Professional College.

Says All Need Knowledge Of Computers

Should everyone study computers?

Yes, says Dan P. Donegan, Director of Education at the Institute for Computer Management, 322 S. Jefferson, Chicago.

"In today's space age," said Donegan, "some knowledge of computers is necessary for everyone; chairman-of-the-board, barber, poet."

"The housewife receives bills, statements, statistics in surveys by radio, TV, magazines, that are a result of computer processing. Rudimentary knowledge of how this process works can give her a true insight when she feels the bill or statistics is incorrect. She can confidently phone the company and say, correctly, Your programmer must have not considered all parameters, for in my case ... etc."

"The chairman-of-the-board wants quicker, more accurate information of immediate and past transactions of his business as well as projections by computer analysis of these records. He wants results, not voluminous statistics, in other words, Exception Reporting, the latest management tool of computer processing. One of his problems is to get the middle-management men to see the computer as he sees it, the revolutionary tool to fracture the competition by presenting knowledge of operations ahead of those who cannot afford or do not understand computer processing. It is amazing how many firms having the latest computer equipment do not fully utilize it," Donegan says.

"The barber cannot carry on a conversation these days without hitting at least 'once a haircut' on computers. His quick knowledgeable reply to, 'What do you think of the failure of those space computers?' will bring not only his present customers back, but their friends as well."

"The poet must put the world in its best light, with emotional truth. Without understanding the revolution in the automating of our lives, no poet can picture today to anyone."

"And you need not be any of these," he says, "for everyone is touched by the computer revolution. Business schools like the Institute of Computer Management, can teach but a small fraction of the people who need computer knowledge. In fact, we concentrate on the greatest present need, Computer Programmers. This need is perpetual, for the competitive pace is so fast among the manufacturers, including IBM, that there is a completely new series of computers every four or five years."

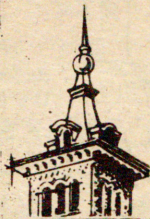

"In no other industry are the leaders forced to attend actual class sessions, every year, just to keep from falling behind the technical revolution that is computer processing. I have taught computer programming to men over sixty years old, as well as 17 year olds, still in high school. Women, presently constitute over one-third of all students. It takes at least 300 hours to learn basic programming and comprehensive training runs for a year or more."

"Everyone can learn something about computers. Strange as it may seem, mathematical or algebraic aptitude does not, I repeat, does not mean an aptitude for programming a computer. However, there is a way to test programming aptitude. I would be revealing a professional and valuable secret if I explained how applicants are tested at ICM. The nearest course studied in high school or college that reveals a programming aptitude is Geometry, which is not so much math, as logic."

"Anyone may have this aptitude, Ph. D., high school student, housewife, anyone!"

Electronic Institute Offers Industry Participation

The Electronics Technical Institute of Chicago and many of this area's leading Electronics firms have just completed final arrangements on a new "Industry Participation Training Program."

As a result of the school's record of training highly skilled Electronics Technicians at ETI has been flooded with job opportunities for graduates. To help meet this tremendous demand, a new plan was created by Mr. Harold M. Rabin, President and Founder of ETI which he presented to some of the biggest employers in the Electronics Industry. They not only liked the plan but they endorsed it 100% and are happy to participate in it.

Here's how the "ETI Industry Participation Training Program" works. Any interested young man who is a High School Graduate (or equivalent), may enroll for ETI's 48 week Electronics Technology Program or ETI's 26 week Electronics and Electrical Drafting Course. Upon acceptance for training by ETI, he becomes immediately eligible for employment in a non-technical capacity with one of the many participating employers in the program. It must be clearly understood that the selection of employees is solely at the option of the participating employers and no job guarantees are expressed or implied by ETI. However, should we not be able to place a student in a job within thirty days from the beginning of the course he may discontinue the program at that time with no further obligation on his part. At no time is there ever a charge for our job placement service, this is always a FREE service to our students and graduates.

The program is a combination of schooling and on-the-job experience. It is scheduled as follows: The student attends classes at ETI from 9 A.M. until 12 noon. He is then available for work in the afternoon on a 5 or 6 day basis. His work time is determined by the demands of his employer.

Home work is not a problem since most of the work is done in school.

This program serves the purpose of helping the student financially and at the same time giving him the on-the-job experience which will prepare him for more responsible, higher paying positions when he graduates. It also gives the employer an opportunity to evaluate the young man's ability and his potential value to the company.

Harold Rabin, president and founder of the Electronics Technical Institute.

Eureka C. Choirs Sing At Gov. Reagan Dinner

The chapel choir and hand bell choir of Eureka College made a concert tour to California Dec. 15 through 21, which included entertaining at a dinner honoring Gov. Ronald W. Reagan, a graduate of Eureka College.

The dinner was an alumni gathering attended by 150 persons. Five members of Governor Reagan's class of 1932 were present.

Eureka College President Ira W. Langston said in his address of the evening, "Several people have told me since I have been here in Los Angeles this time, of the opinion which Joe Pyne, your local television and radio personality expressed concerning Eureka College. As I understand it, Mr. Pyne said that Ronald Reagan graduated from an insignificant Midwestern college. You laugh, but I am inclined to agree with him. You know why? Because Eureka College is a teaching institution.

She has had and will have significance only in the achievements of her alumni. We do not expect any significant new scientific data to be discovered in her laboratories. No social revolutions are expected to begin or to be squelched on her campus. No 'hot lines' to world capitals will originate there. Only persons can be launched from the pads on the campus of Eureka College. It is as these alumni achievers reflect the limelight which they acquire and as they order the world of government, of science, of business, of education, or religion, or whatever, by their thoughts and their deeds that Eureka College becomes visible as a location of any significance.

President Ira W. Langston, right, of Eureka College, extends greetings to Governor Ronald W. Reagan of California at a dinner honoring Governor Reagan, 1932 graduate of Eureka College in Los Angeles in December.

The demand for trained people today is far greater than the supply.

The motel industry is growing so fast that a motel is completed every 90 minutes in this country and new owners look to use to turn out competent, well trained people to fill the desperate need for new managers.

With this continued growth in the hospitality field, the door of opportunity is open for many thousands of people who have been properly trained, at schools such as the Motel Management Institute.

Here is the opportunity to enter a field that not only pays well but offers all the plus values of living in America's most luxurious new motels. This is a very friendly field open for those who enjoy meeting people.

Age is no barrier and placement assistance is continuous and nation-wide. MMI takes great pride in assisting those people who are willing to enter the door of opportunity.

MMI is licensed and approved by the Illinois State Department of Registration and Education, and is approved by the Association of Home Study Schools. This approval is your assurance that MMI training is of the highest quality.

This modern and progressive school was established due to demand for a practical, modern and efficient training program in the field of motel, hotel and resort management.

The school is located at 333 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago.

Speaker Discusses Membership Drive, Election Unit System Of Officers Highlight Meet

The annual dinner meeting of school administrators and board members of the Lincoln-Way High School area was held Tuesday night (Jan. 17) at Lincoln-Way.

The group heard Ben Hubbard, of Illinois State University, speak on the advantages and disadvantages of reorganizing the Lincoln-Way area into a unit district.

The poo-bahs of education in Illinois are now waging a campaign to consolidate school districts and make them larger. They give special benediction to the unit system in which high schools and elementary schools are all one. Some people have referred to unit districts as "the CIO of the educational field."

Hubbard looks at the subject objectively and in his opinion the disadvantages of a unit system outweigh the advantages in the Lincoln-Way area, it was reported.

SHORT AND SWEET

Turkey has been a cherished product of the Americans for centuries... Long before the white man landed on the shores of the New World, turkey was an important year-round food source for all Indian tribes... The bird was hunted by Indian children, who got their prey by the simple use of a dart blown through a hollow cane... Turkey feathers of brilliant hue were used, as well, for ceremonial dress... The Aztec, Mayan and Inca Indians of Mexico also considered turkey an important food...

It is thought by some historians that Columbus took Central American turkey back to Spain as proof that he had reached foreign soil... Others say Captain Hernando Cortez, in his conquest of the Mexican Indians, was the first white man to taste turkey meat, at the time mistaking the majestic bird for a variety of peacock... In fact, turkey got its name because it was mistaken for peacock... Spaniards, believing the New World to be connected with India, gave the newfound bird the name "toka," meaning "peacock" in the Tamil language of India... Later, Jewish merchants in Spain converted the Tamil name into Hebrew, calling the bird "tukki"... The word was eventually Anglo-Saxonized to "turkey"...

Today, turkey is a booming American business... This year's crop reached a new record of 116 million... Before the turn of the century the turkey population was little more than 10 million. By 1920 there was a great decline and the number of birds dropped to three million—allowing only one turkey for every 35 people... Twenty years later, there were 35 million turkeys—one for every four persons... Now there is about one bird for every two persons.

But be doers of the word, and not hearers only.—(James 1:22)

Prayer is the motivating power that stirs us into effective action. The persons who really understand prayer and its power are the persons who are doers and accomplishes, they make a constructive contribution to life. Prayer is the initial preparation we make before starting out on any endeavor. Let's pray then, and act on them.
